Who I Am:

I am Carlos Menacho, a Peruvian-American born into a immigrant family, first generation that strives to succeed in America. With a family as tech savy as mine, I grew around learning how things work early on being able to get an idea of the family work, Computer Science. My knowledge in several programming languages allows me to flow through the front end of programming easier. I entered Queens College to learn on the field that I was so interested in. My passion drove me into design where I plan to utilize all my

My passion drove me into design where I plan to utilize all my knowledge to create what I would see as the future. Within the design field I am able to use what i've learned in computer science and use it in my future career.
